

My tenancy is ending but I must self-isolate past my end date.

Sadly, these things happen and are beyond anyone's control.

We will do our best to accommodate your need to stay longer at your property however, you will be aware that a new tenancy is due to start the day after yours ends.

We will need to make arrangements for the incoming tenants to be provided with alternative accommodation and if they are unable to stay at their existing property, this may be at a guest house or hotel. Unfortunately, this cost will need to be covered by you.

You will also need to pay additional rent for the days you stay after your tenancy ends. Please note that this is rent for the whole house, not just your room.
